

GREAT PROGRAM FOR THE LAYMEN

Pacific Coast is Registering Tremendous Numbers For Big Conventions.

Sweeping the people with enthusiasm, the Laymen's Missionary Movement convention on the Pacific coast are being called the biggest religious gatherings in the history of the coast. Everywhere the churches are registering tremendous numbers of delegates. Telegrams to the local committee of arrangements urge that registration be pushed and that every man who can be reached be persuaded to register. The following telegram was received today by J. H. Burke, executive secretary of the general committee:

Portland, Ore., Feb. 15.—Greetings to the El Paso committee. The Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma conventions have just closed. They were marvelous for spiritual power. I have never seen their equal except at quadrennial student volunteer conventions. The program and team work far exceed those ever represented. You cannot over-estimate this. Over 2000 registered delegates were in the opening session in Portland yesterday. There was an unprecedented men's meeting here tonight. The largest auditorium was filled to beyond capacity, with standing room only, with delegates. One church registered 100 percent of its male membership. Another registered 100 percent. We are having wonderfully impressive sessions. Push your registrations, make a personal canvass. Let no man miss such a blessing as these meetings afford. C. V. Vickrey.

A noted speaker. Among the noted men who will take part in the coming gathering, none is better known in the church and mission field than Thos. Moody, who knows Africa better than many people know their own state. He went to the dark continent in 1890 as a missionary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society and in connection with his work has visited much of the interior, being familiar with sections which, before his visit, had not been trod by the feet of any white man. Mr. Moody has been stationed at Irobu, Leopoldville and Tanika in the African field. He has been in America on four or five times since his appointment.

Mr. Moody describes the continent where he works, its people and their needs with interest and eloquence.

A. W. NORCOP HEADS UNIVERSITY CLUB

A. W. Norcop, one of the founders of the University club, was elected president of the organization Tuesday evening at a meeting of the trustees, which was held at the Texas bank. Norman Walker was elected secretary-treasurer. A board of directors for the year will be selected later by the charter membership.

A club room is to be secured as soon as the organization is completed and regular meetings will be held there. All graduates of the recognized universities and colleges or students at such schools who have attended at least two years are eligible for membership in the club. An associate membership is to be arranged for non-resident members who live in the southwest. West Point and Annapolis graduates will be eligible to this associate membership.

It is planned by the trustees to make the University club the center of the university life in the southwest. A series of study groups will be arranged for the serious consideration of literary subjects, current events and for the preparation and reading of papers on scientific and literary subjects.

It is planned to have the first annual dinner within the next month, when the entire charter membership of the club will attend.

MRS. PETROVA who has now given up her stage engagements altogether, to devote herself exclusively to the production of distinctive photoplays for Metro, under the direction of Popular Plays and Players, has her first picture well under way. It is called "The Soul Market," and presents an intensely dramatic story built around society and the stage which will call for the highest display of Mrs. Petrova's notable emotional powers.

"The Soul Market" was written especially for Mrs. Petrova by Aaron Hoffman, the well known author and playwright. The central character, that of a prima donna, which is portrayed by Mrs. Petrova, is somewhat different from the vampire roles she has had in the past. It is believed that it will give her far greater scope for her distinctive dramatic gifts than any vehicle in which she has yet appeared on the screen, and it is certain to put her versatility in character portrayal to a supreme test.

Following "The Soul Market," Mrs. Petrova will immediately begin work on another five-part screen production for Metro, "The Scarlet Woman." Next she will be seen in "Playing With Fire."

Six Hopkins—in real life Rose Melville—declares that the wicker bonnet she will wear in her screen comedies is the same one that she wore for ten years on the stage. Helen is thinking of getting out an insurance policy on the bonnet.

We Do Not Disparage Talking Machines

THOSE who were at the El Paso Theatre on Friday night and heard Elizabeth Spencer sing in comparison with Edison's RE-Creation of her voice realize that Edison has developed a new art—the art of actually RE-Creating music, as opposed to its mere mechanical reproduction.

They could not distinguish between Elizabeth Spencer's voice as they heard her from the stage and Edison's RE-Creation of Elizabeth Spencer's voice which issued from the wonderful Edison Diamond Disc instrument at her side. Numerous great artists have appeared in similar tests, always with the same result. Edison has discovered how actually to RE-CREATE all forms of music by means of his remarkable new invention, the

EDISON Diamond Disc

Nevertheless we do not disparage talking machines. We do not condemn them. We commend them. There are several makes. Some are widely advertised and widely known; others are not. They differ in various mechanical features. Some use needles; some do not. Some have ingenious contrivances to vary the degree of loudness; some do not. Some have wooden sounding boxes; some do not. Some have swinging doors to regulate the sound; some do not. They vary in inconsequential features, but all are capable of bringing wholesome entertainments into your home.

Edison's New Invention Is On a Higher Plane

We invite your investigation of the Edison Diamond Disc, not as an ingenious mechanical device, but as a wonderful musical instrument that surpasses the finest piano in musical dignity and worth.

We invite you to hear examples of Edison's new art of RE-CREATING music. Already he has nearly one thousand examples, and new selections are being placed on sale every week. His new art opens the entire field of music to music lovers.
